

Black crystal is a type of mineral quartz that is jet black in color and often called black diamond. It is a form of cryptocrystalline quartz that is usually found in or near volcanic rocks. Black crystal has a unique luster and is believed to provide psychic protection and be connected to the root chakra.